SCHOOL PROFILE

Alameda is located on a small island next to Oakland, in San Francisco Bay. Students are priority #1 in Alameda School District. Educators, staff and administrators work together to ensure a first class education for every student. The strong community-wide support for schools ensures every child the very best opportunity to succeed and creates a vibrant and engaged community. Alameda School District offers international students a classic American high school experience with all activities, clubs and school subjects that can be expected, together with some unique and extra interesting ones.

The school district is proud of the high quality education their staff provides. U.S. News and World Report Magazine has recognized Alameda and Encinal High Schools as two of the top 1,500 high schools in the nation. Past graduates are Merit Scholar recipients and go on to attend such diverse and excellent institutions as Harvard, Yale, Brown, Howard, Columbia and all University of California and California State University campuses, to name just a few.

COMMUNITY INFORMATION

Alameda is located on a small island in the San Francisco Bay. The city has a small-town feel with its Victorian homes and tree-lined neighborhoods. Due to its proximity to the Bay, wind surfers and kite surfers can often be seen along Crown Memorial State Beach and Shoreline Drive. It is only a short ferry or bus ride to downtown San Francisco, where students can find all the shopping and activities they can imagine. Alameda offers students a great combination of having easy access to an exciting big city, while residing in a safe, residential community.
